

HANLEY·WOOD

Fine Giftware & Bridal Registry

Thirty-five years ago Annabell Ames went against the wishes and warnings of everyone in her family to take a very small inheritance and open her first retail store. Hanley Wood, 5611 Broadway St., has evolved into one of San Antonio's premier gift and home boutiques. The building itself is charming, with interesting architecture and great lighting. Incredible displays throughout the store include exquisite crystal, china, silver and decorative tabletop pieces.

Many San Antonio brides consider Hanely Wood their main or only wedding registry. The friendly and knowledgeable staff not only walks them through the process of wedding selection and registry, but offers valuable design and entertaining advice as well.

For the table, you'll find beautiful selections of china, crystal and flatware. Hanley Wood carries lovely lines of china including Versace and Meissen. Its crystal line sparkles with names like Simon Pearce and Nambé, and its sterling flatware like Buccellati, will make your table even more elegant. Entertaining with pieces by Annie Modica, Arthur Court and Wilson Armetale will make every event special.

The entire store is a stunning collection of fine and beautiful items for the table and bar, but you will also find wonderful gifts for babies such as silver porringers, picture frames and rattles. And of course, Hanley Wood is the perfect place to shop for unique gifts for special people. There is a wonderful line of items made just for Texans who know how to entertain with "style!"
